LIONEL WINDSOR

CURRICULUM VITAE

Full name: Rev Lionel James Windsor

Address: 4 Sutton St, Durham DH1 4DD, United Kingdom

Contact: http://www.lionelwindsor.net/about/contact/

Family: Married to (Leonie) Bronwyn, with three children

OBJECTIVE

I am an Australian Bible teacher seeking a position in which I can help to provide in-depth biblical and theological education for people preparing for Christian ministry, especially in Australia. I expect to complete a PhD in theology at Durham University, UK, by mid-2012. I am specialising in New Testament (Paul) but also have a strong interest in Old Testament and Biblical Theology. This CV summarises my Christian background, education, ministry and teaching experience. I can be contacted using the information above.

CHRISTIAN MINISTRY EXPERIENCE

I became a Christian at the age of 12, and since that time have been an active member of Anglican churches in the Diocese of Sydney. I am reformed and evangelical in my theological commitments and assent to the doctrine of the Anglican Church of Australia.

ORDINATION

I was ordained as Deacon by the Most Reverend Peter F. Jensen, Anglican Archbishop of Sydney and Metropolitan, on 4 February, 2006, at the Cathedral Church of St Andrew, Sydney.

In 2007-2008, I was engaged in the process of seeking a recommendation with respect to the possibility of being ordained as a presbyter. The process was thorough and helpful. In October 2008, the Presbyterate Panel of the Diocese of Sydney commented to the Archbishop:

> Had Lionel presented for an ordination recommendation in this calendar year, the panel would have approved Lionel for ordination as a presbyter. However, Lionel will be pursuing part-time theological education in 2009 whilst engaging in part-time pastoral ministry at St. Michael's Wollongong. As such, he will not be positioned to consider invitations for an incumbency. The panel looks forward to Lionel presenting for a review in twelve months time - should ministry opportunities in the area of theological education not eventuate.

EDUCATION

2009-present	PhD (Theology)	Durham University, UK	Expected completion by mid-2012	Supervisor: Prof. Francis Watson

Provisional Thesis: Paul and the Vocation of Israel: The way in which Paul's Jewish Identity informs his Apostolic Ministry. Paul, as a Jew, is in the process of redefining Jewish identity in the light of the gospel of Jesus Christ. As such, Paul respectively accepts, rejects and transforms the various aspects of Jewish identity which arise from his understanding of the mainstream Jewish community. Previous studies of Jewish identity in Paul have tended to concentrate on the soteriological dimension of Jewish identity or its social correlates. Such studies tend to treat the existence of a distinctive Jewish identity primarily as a problem which Paul is endeavouring to overcome. My study concentrates on the more neglected vocational dimension of Jewish identity, aiming to highlight the positive value of Jewish distinction according to Paul, which consists in the epistemological privilege of Jewish people which leads to a calling to provide God's revelation to non-Jews.

ADDENDUM: DESCRIPTION OF MINISTRY EXPERIENCE ST MICHAEL'S ANGLICAN CATHEDRAL, WOLLONGONG

I worked as an Assistant Minister at St Michael's Anglican Cathedral, Wollongong, NSW from 2006-2009. This position involved leadership ministry of the Word and prayer, with a focus on meeting the Archbishop's challenge of seeing at least 10% of the area reached with the gospel of Jesus Christ by 2012. My responsibilities included:

Preaching: About 30 times / year, on various books of the Old and New Testaments, as well as topical series.

Night Church: Primary responsibility for the evening congregation, which consists mainly of young adults. Prayer for individuals. Chairing the lay congregational ministry team, responsible for events and day-to-day running of church. Personally following up newcomers. Co-ordinating and training small group leaders. Oversight and reform of service leadership. Running (with my wife Bronwyn) a home Bible and prayer group. Managing relational and logistical issues associated with significant sustained numerical growth over the past few years.

Evangelism: Teaching and training teachers in primary school SRE (Special Religious Education), including organising an end-of-year Christmas assembly. Personal Evangelism via school and pre-school. Co-ordinating evangelistic events and guest services. Evangelism training using a course I have developed called Gospel Logic. Assisting the senior minister to co-ordinate small groups to run their own evangelistic events. Mission event planning, i.e. the 'Viva la Gong' mission in October 2008.

Ministry Coaching: I have been the primary coach for one Ministry Training Strategy (MTS) trainee over two years and an Anglican Youthworks trainee over one year; I have also personally coached two young men into full-time ministry.

Children's and Youth: Personal pastoral care of children's and youth leaders. Overall responsibility for co-ordinating children's and youth ministry. Managing change of structures through consultation with parents, children and leaders. Personally preparing older teenagers for confirmation.

Training: Running a study group for the Moore Theological College correspondence course. Developing and leading courses in: writing youth and children's talks and discussion questions; leading public Christian gatherings; and praying with others. Recruiting and training new prayer and Bible study group leaders. Overall co-ordination of other courses for equipping lay ministry at St Michael's, run by other staff and congregation members.

Administration: Liaison with the Diocese of Sydney regarding computer and telecommunication issues. Basic office information technology management. Development, programming and ongoing administration of the parish database (with help from skilled parishioners). Development and creation of parish website. General financial administration.

Personal Pastoral Care: Hospital and home visiting. Ongoing pastoral support of individuals. Marriage guidance.

Other: Infant baptisms and thanksgivings (~ 4 / year). Weddings (~ 12 / year). Funerals (~ 6 / year).
